Grades: Your grade will be based on: (1) your statistically scaled score on the final examination (50%), and (2) your statistically scaled total score on six weekly written assignments (50%). However, I require attendance, preparation, and participation, so your grade may be reduced by up to 10% if you do not prepare for, attend and actively participate in class. You will be dropped from the course if you miss more than the equivalent of two full hours of class sessions; missing any portion of any session will adversely affect your grade. You must personally sign the attendance sheet at each class session for your attendance to qualify.

Homework assignments: I will hand out an assignment at the end of each class session, and the assignment is due at the beginning of the next class session, beginning with the second class. Please do your own work (i.e., do not work in groups).

Final examination: The final examination will be a take-home exercise due by 12:00 p.m. P.S.T. on a date to be announced at the last class session. I will describe it further in the first class session, and will make the assignment available to you after the last class session but at least one week in advance of the due date.
