Standards of Conduct
The use of illegal drugs and the abuse of alcohol on the campus of Western State College of Law or in facilities controlled by the Western State College of Law are prohibited by college regulations and are incompatible with the Western State College of Law goal of providing a healthy educational environment for students, faculty, staff and guests. The following information is provided in compliance with the Drug-Free Schools and Communities Act Amendments of 1989.

Effects of Drugs and Alcohol
Although individuals often use drugs and alcohol to achieve a variety of effects on mind and body that are found to be temporarily useful or pleasurable, drugs can be highly addictive and injurious. A person can pay a price in terms of his or her physical, emotional, and social health.

This price can be paid in a number of ways. The risk of contracting sexually transmitted diseases, including AIDS, is increased through unwanted or unprotected sex when one is under the influence of drugs or alcohol. Drugs can be the trigger for violent crime. Economic and legal problems usually follow directly when one tries to support a drug habit by resorting to crime. The dependence, illness, loss of job, and loss of family or friends that can result from drug or alcohol use and abuse can be tragic.

In keeping with the mission of Western State College of Law and the requirements of state and federal law, Western State College of Law has adopted this program to ensure a drug-free campus and workplace and to prevent the use of controlled substances and the abuse of alcohol.

Convictions for Drug-Related Offenses
Any student convicted of any drug-related criminal statute must notify the Dean of Student Affairs, in writing, no later than five (5) days after such conviction regardless of where the offense occurred. This is because under federal and state laws, any student convicted of a drug-related felony offense must be denied all federal and state assistance, including Pell Grants and federal student loans. However, a criminal conviction shall not be necessary to find that a student has violated these standards of conduct, and the Western State College of Law need not, and ordinarily will not, defer its own actions and sanctions pending the outcome of any criminal proceeding.

Danger Signals Indicating a Drug or Alcohol Problem
Following is a listing of classic danger signals that may indicate the presence of a drug or alcohol problem:
- abrupt changes in mood or attitude
• decreased efficiency at work or at school
• frequent absences, tardiness, and/or early departures
• relationship problems with family, friends, and co-workers
• unusual outbursts of anger and hostility
• social withdrawal

Counseling
If you observe any of these changes in yourself or another student, you are encouraged to talk with the psychologist/counselor for confidential counseling. The school uses the services of a third-party psychologist or counselor who provides confidential professional counseling on campus. The counselor may refer a student for limited visits with an area network mental health provider or assist the student with locating resources within the community. As a matter of policy, the counselor is encouraged; if and when deemed appropriate, to inform persons being counseled of the procedures to report crimes on a voluntary, confidential basis, for inclusion into the annual crime statistics.

Abuse of alcohol or drugs can lead to dependency and addiction, with serious consequences for personal health and overall quality of life. There are drug and alcohol counseling, treatment, and rehabilitation facilities available in our area where students and employees may seek advice and treatment. The psychologist/counselor can refer you to one that meets your needs.
