 ONLINE EXPECTATIONS

WSCL courses will begin this semester online and transition back to campus when in-person learning can be accomplished safely. Thus, the following faculty-approved procedures will govern our time together on Zoom:

♦ Sign into Zoom with your name used to register for class. If you prefer to be called by a different name you may rename yourself in Zoom using the following format: “PreferredName (FirstName) LastName”
♦ Arrive to class early. Be prepared and dressed as you would for an in-person class.
♦ Your camera must be turned on and must remain on for the duration of the class. Your microphone must be muted and remain muted unless otherwise directed.
♦ Do not post screenshots or recordings from any Zoom classes on social media. Our screen time together will be awkward enough without memorializing it forever. And more importantly, such actions would constitute a violation of the Student Honor Code and the WSCL Principles of Community.
♦ If you have to miss a Zoom session, or arrive late or leave early, please email me in advance as you would for an in-person class. Keep in mind that it may be hard for me to see if students are in the Zoom “waiting room” while I am teaching, so your timely arrival is much appreciated.
COURSE DESCRIPTION

This advanced criminal law class queries whether, and to what extent, the criminalization of traditional “vice” behaviors (sexual practices, prostitution, drug and alcohol use, pornography, gambling) is warranted. It also explores the merits of government regulation in areas such as the food industry, prescription pharmaceuticals (e.g., opioids; “cognitive enhancements”), and end-of-life issues. Students will critically analyze laws and policies with an eye toward our country’s future legal landscape.

ATTENDANCE, GRADES, & UPPER LEVEL WRITING REQUIREMENT

Class attendance is important, and it is mandatory. Students who miss more than four class sessions are subject to administrative dismissal from the course per the WSCL Attendance Policy (reprinted in the Student Handbook).

This class satisfies the Western State College of Law upper level writing requirement (ULWR), and follows guidelines established by the American Bar Association. Each student will earn a numeric grade for the course. The final course grade consists of a draft (20%), P&P (participation & professionalism) (20%), and a 15-18 page research paper (60%).

You will work on the paper throughout the semester. In a WSCL ULWR course, you must earn a 2.0 or higher to obtain ULWR credit.

PARTICIPATION, PROFESSIONALISM, PRESENTATIONS, & PREPARATION

Participation & Professionalism (P&P): Success in law school involves an active learning environment. While learning online may not allow for the most effective engagement, Zoom classes should not be considered the same as passively watching Netflix. This class is most productive (and fun) if you have thought about the material and are willing to discuss it. For volunteer participation, quality is valued over quantity, and all views are welcome. 20% of your final course grade will be based on the quality and quantity of your contributions to class discussions, attendance, punctuality, conduct during class time, a presentation to the class, and overall professionalism.

You may not record this class without my prior approval. Students in violation of these policies may be referred to the Associate Dean for Academic Affairs.

Class Presentation: Every student must present a vice topic to the class; further details will be discussed during the first day of class, and a sign-up sheet will be circulated during the second week of class. I will also periodically present material regarding the ULWR and the final paper.
Outside Preparation: You should anticipate that, on average, preparing for class (including researching for and writing your paper) will take you a minimum of two hours for every one hour of class time. To restate with specificity and at risk of redundancy: because Vice is a three-unit class, you should estimate your preparation for class to require six (6) or more hours outside of class to complete.

LEARNING GOALS

After completion of this course, students should be able to:

- Make legal and policy-based arguments.
- Evaluate legal arguments, including the ability to assess the strengths and weaknesses of particular rules and policies.
- Advocate, in both oral and written formats, the legal, economic, and social strengths and weaknesses of a rule or policy and use case law, statutes, and policy to persuade others.
- Recognize ethical issues inherent in the way certain public policies interact with criminal laws.
- Acknowledge the existence of diverse ideological viewpoints when considering the social implications of criminalizing certain activities.

Western State College of Law Programmatic Learning Outcomes: Western State College of Law’s curriculum is designed so that every student achieves a level of competency prior to graduation in each of the eight Programmatic Learning Outcomes listed below:

1. Doctrinal Knowledge: Students will demonstrate knowledge of substantive and procedural law in the core curriculum subjects, including Contracts, Criminal Law, Criminal Procedure, Torts, Real Property, Business Associations, Evidence, Civil Procedure, Constitutional Law, Estates, Community Property, Remedies, and Professional Responsibility.

2. Practice Skills: Students will demonstrate the development of other law practice skills. Each student’s chosen outcomes within this category will be varied based on the student’s particular interests, coursework and work experiences. They may include, but are not limited to, the following topics: oral presentation and advocacy; interviewing; counseling; client service and business development; negotiations, mediation, arbitration, or other alternate dispute resolution methods; advanced legal research and writing (excluding purely academic papers and the first four units earned in introductory first-year legal research and writing class); applied legal writing such as drafting contracts, pleadings, other legal instruments; law practice management or the use of technology in law practice; cultural competency; collaboration or project management; financial analysis, such as accounting, budgeting project management, and valuation; cost benefit analysis in administrative agencies; use of technology, data analyses, or predictive coding; business strategy and behavior; pre-trial preparation, fact investigation, such as discovery, e-discovery, motion practice, assessing evidence, or utilizing experts; trial practice; professional civility and applied ethics; a law clinic that includes a classroom component; or a legal externship that includes a classroom component.

3. Legal Analysis: Students will demonstrate the ability to identify the factual and legal issues implicated by a fact pattern and to appropriately use cases (including identifying the salient features of an appropriate precedent case, identifying legally significant similarities or differences between the precedent case and a fact pattern and explaining why those are legally significant) and rules (including the ability to connect legally significant facts in a fact pattern to the rule) to predict how a court would decide the issue. Students will also demonstrate the ability to identify and evaluate the public policies of a precedent case or rule and be able to evaluate how public policy can impact the application of a rule to the legal issue.

4. Legal Research: Students will demonstrate the ability to locate relevant legal authority using a variety of book and electronic resources, and to properly cite to such legal authority.

5. Communication: Students will demonstrate the ability to communicate both orally and in writing in a manner appropriate to a particular task to effectively convey the author or speaker’s ideas. This includes audience sensitivity in written and oral communication (the ability to adopt a tone, style and level of detail appropriate to the needs, knowledge and expertise of the audience); and written communication basic proficiency (the ability to use the conventions of grammar, spelling, punctuation, diction and usage appropriate to the task and sufficient to convey effectively the author’s ideas).

6. Advocacy of Legal Argument: Students will demonstrate the ability, in both oral and written formats, to evaluate the legal, economic and social strengths and weaknesses of a case and use case and statutory authority as well as public policy to persuade others. Making policy-based arguments includes the ability to identify and evaluate the public policies of a precedent case or rule and their implications, and be able to assert such appropriate arguments to support a particular application or distinction of a precedent case to a legal controversy or a particular resolution of the application of a rule to the legal controversy.

7. Client Sensitivity and Cultural Competency: Students will demonstrate an awareness of clients’ needs and goals, including a sensitivity to clients’ background and circumstances (including, but not limited to, socio-economic, gender, race, ethnicity, educational, disability and/or religious background(s)), the ability to make decisions that reflect an appropriate focus on those needs and goals, and awareness that cultural issues may affect the relevance of facts and application of the law.

8) Legal Ethics: Students will demonstrate the ability to identify ethical issues in law practice contexts and make appropriate decisions to resolve such issues.

Requirements for Students in Zoom Sessions:

- Find a dedicated quiet space to attend Zoom sessions, to minimize the chances that you will be disrupted during the session.
- Arrive to class early and dressed as you would to attend an in-person class.
- Your camera must be turned on for the duration of the class. If desired, you can use the background settings in Zoom to create an artificial background that blocks the view of your space while still allowing you to be seen on camera.
- Come prepared, as you would for an in-person class. Participation in Zoom classes is as important as it is during an in-person class session.
- Do not multitask – stay focused on the class discussion – do not wander in and out of the Zoom session.
- If you have to miss a Zoom session, or arrive late or leave early, notify the professor in advance, as you would for an in-person class.
- If you have connectivity issues, whether it be long-term or short-term, that impact your ability to participate (e.g., if you are limited to dial-in without video), notify your professor so other accommodations can be explored.
- Do not post screenshots or recordings of any Zoom classes on social media. Such actions would constitute a violation of the Student Honor Code. If you need access to a recording of the Zoom session, please contact your professor.
